HORSE TRAIL HIGHLIGHTS

By Floyd Davis

Tuesday, June 23, was the big day for Grayling as far as the horse trail is concerned. Monday evening the group of trailriders was camped at the Manistee River camp grounds. Many of them were making full use of the limited facilities by using one of the horse trailers as a bath house to change into bathing suits for a good swim and cleanup in the refreshing waters of the Manistee River.

On Tuesday after a good breakfast, they started off on the 18-mile ride to Grayling. By the time they arrived at our place, the horses and riders were very dry and as the Grayling campground is not completed yet, I set up a temporary watering-trough and had the riders tie up for a rest and water. It was quite a sight to behold. The woodlot was full of horses and the driveway was lined with trucks and horse trailers, as several new members joined the riders here.

There were horses of all sizes, shapes and colors, and riders from places as far away as Indiana, with occupations as varied as farmer to lawyer. All seemed in good spirits and had no bad experiences so far on the ride, which started at Empire on the West Coast of Michigan and was scheduled to end at Tawas City on the East Coast.

On Sunday, June 28th, making a total of 9 days on the trail. This trip should be planned as a 15-day ride, as it would be easier on both horse and rider.

I would like to thank Tiny Russell for his help in recruiting some quick help, Carol Wert for his fine interest in making the riders welcome to Grayling and representing the Chamber of Commerce, as well as hauling the riders to town and back. Also Janet Olson for transporting the City Police for security and everyone else who had a part in helping these people to think of Grayling as a place to come back to.

One couple was heard to make the remark as they were leaving, "Boy, this sure is the best reception and cooperation we have received, and we won't forget it."

Hughes Is Senate Candidate On GOP Ticket In District 36

15-county district, the 36th which includes his home counties of Isabella, Mecosta, Newaygo, Oshtemo, Roscommon, Missaukee, Wexford, Manistee, Benzie, Grand Traverse, Kalkaska, Crawford, Leelanau, and part of Antrim.

Of these, Clare, Oshtemo, and Crawford are the only counties from the old 28th Senatorial District, which Senator Hughes has served for the past two terms.

Senator Hughes has been an active Republican, having served as 10th Congressional District Chairman, and as a member of the Michigan Republican State Central Committee. Prior to his election to office of State Senator he had served as Clare County Prosecuting Attorney. He also served as a member of the Clare Board of Education for several years.

In announcing his candidacy, Senator Hughes said: "I am a Republican, and I feel that the Republican policies and theories of government are sound. I will say, also, that I feel the needs of the people should be respected and that every effort should be made to find the source of revenues needed to meet the needs of the people of Michigan."

"I would approve anything that is logical and necessary and good for the District and the State of Michigan."

Red Cross Blood Program Discussed Further

A meeting held Monday afternoon at Mercy Hospital to explain the function of a Red Cross Blood Program was attended by approximately twenty people from the Grayling and Frederic area. Program chairman Derek McEvers presided.

Slides were shown and narrated by Dr. Joseph Venier, Medical Director, Mrs. Doris Fishbeck, Field Director and Mrs. Frances Coull, R. N., Chief Nurse, all of the Regional Red Cross office in Lansing. Also present was Paul Jacobs, area representative, of Cadillac.

The slides were shown to orient those present as to what facilities are required and the voluntary help needed when a blood mobile visits an area; also how the mobile is prepared for the visit and how the donated blood is processed following a visit. It is estimated that Crawford County will need three mobile visits a year for residents to contribute their share of blood to the program.

Also explained in addition to whole blood needs were the important, life saving, derivatives: Anti-Hemophilic for hemophiloid diseases, Fresh Frozen Plasma for certain blood conditions, packed Red Cells for certain medical conditions, Serum Albumin for shock, Kidney and liver diseases, Fibrinogen for childbirth hemorrhage, cardiac and lung surgery, Gamma Globulin for small pox and V E G for other needs.

It was explained that of the 5,500,000 pints of blood given in the United States, 2,600,000 pints are given through the Red Cross Blood program. Where such a program is in force Red Cross supplies ALL of the blood used in the hospitals in these counties and also for all of these residents who may need it elsewhere.

Houghton Lake Playhouse To Present Cliff Norton

CLIFF NORTON, who opened the first season of the Houghton Lake Playhouse last year with "The Seven Year Itch," returns this summer to star in the amusing and satirical comedy, "Visit to a Small Planet," July 7-12. Mr. Norton is well-known to a wide audience of television viewers through his appearances in nearly all of television's best and most important panels, variety shows, comedies and serious dramas. In addition, he has been in such famous musical comedies as "Guys and Dolls," "Damn Yankees" and "Oklahoma!" The roles Mr. Norton has played have ranged from pure farce to serious drama. Although he is always busy, Mr. Norton still manages to find the time to commute to the West Coast for many guest appearances.

Mr. Norton's career in show business began when he became a disk-jockey on radio. During this time, he performed in countless keep operas, children's shows and night-time dramas. Until television came to the fore, Norton's specialty in radio was character roles. In the early years of television, Norton became the comic "relief" on the "Garro-way at Large" show.

Cliff Norton's reputation is not confined to the United States. He has also performed in many live television programs for the BBC in London in the summer of 1959. Mr. Norton's background in show business includes an off-Broadway play as well as one on Broadway, summer theatre dramas, musical comedies, night clubs and motion pictures. One of the best and most popular comics in show-business today.

Plan Rabies Clinic For Dogs

Due to the response to the planned rabies clinic for dogs Thursday, July 2nd, the hours have been lengthened from 2 p. m. to 7 p. m. at the Grayling Fire Hall on Ottawa Street, instead of from 4 o'clock as originally scheduled. This will give an additional two hours for the shots to be administered. The rabies shots, costing $2.00, are effective for two years.

A county ordinance has been passed requiring proof of a rabies shot in order to get a dog license in 1965 and thereafter. The shots to be given July 2nd will be applicable for next year's license, please bring in your dog.

Rabies is an acute infectious disease of mammals characterized by irritation of the central nervous system followed by paralysis and finally death.

PREVENTION OF RABIES IN DOGS AND MAN

The prevention of rabies in both dogs and man consists of giving the dog a rabies shot. In dogs, this shot is painless and has no side effects. The inoculation lasts from 2 to 4 years depending upon the nature of the shot. Treatment to humans is an altogether different matter. If a human has been bitten by a rabid dog — and this must be confirmed by keeping the dog alive and under observation for at least ten days, if you can find him — the only hope is the Pasteur treatment. This treatment is used with great caution as it can have many painful and dangerous side effects including fatal paralysis. Since nearly all cases of rabies in man are due to the bite of a rabid dog, it is of the utmost importance to check the disease in these animals. It can be done easily and inexpensively on July 2nd and the Grayling Fire Hall from 2 to 7 p. m. Please come and bring your dog. No need to phone.

PONY TALES

By JANET W. OLSON

The care of your pony's stall is almost as important as the care of your pony. Think how you would hate to be closed in a filthy room and might expect to sleep in a dirty wet bed. Your pony doesn't like this any better than you would.

Your pony's stall need not be fancy but it must be safe and clean. Let's start with the floor. This should be of dirt or clay, a concrete floor is too hard on a pony's feet and legs. Next come the walls and these should be of smooth boards. Leave no sharp edges as sometimes a bored pony will chew and there is a danger of splinters. Be sure that the walls come tightly to the floor so that a small hoof can't become caught between floor and wall. Your doors and ceiling must be high. A pony almost never ducks his head when going through a door, he might however, become frightened and throw his head high. If your stall has a window in it, your pony will enjoy looking out when he is closed in his stall, but you must use a strong mesh screen on the inside of the window. A pony could be badly cut if he decided to get a closer look through an unprotected window. Watch light bulbs in your stall. These should be high enough so a pony can't reach them and as an extra precaution a heavy mesh basket type cover can be put over the bulb.

There are many good materials to use as bedding. Wheat straw is what we use as we have found that the ponies will nibble some of their bedding and oat straw lasts too good. Peat moss makes a fine bed and the ponies won't eat it but it is more expensive than straw. Wood shavings make a comfortable bed, but watch for small pieces of wood which could cut or hurt your pony. Once a day remove all soiled bedding and air the stall well at the same time. Now and then pile all of the bedding in one corner and sprinkle the floor with garden lime. Sweep it with a stiff broom and spread the bedding back on the floor.

Fourth Of July . . .

The traditional Fourth of July our fathers and their fathers knew has largely gone from the land. Fireworks, save for organized, licensed displays, have been widely outlawed on grounds of safety. With them have gone the orations, once commonly held in town squares and fairgrounds in which leaders in government and enterprise paid their tributes to those who founded the nation, and who gave us the powers of mind and spirit which made possible the maintenance of our freedoms and the creation of material abundance.

These orators, needless to say, were often naive and flamboyant. But still, there was a profound merit in what they said and meant no matter how inept the choice of words might have been. They did paint a picture of the American ideal, the American philosophy, the American tradition. And even those who stayed but briefly to hear them felt stirrings of pride in our heritage.

All this is gone or generally so. The Fourth has become just one more holiday. And something vital, something that was at the heart of things, has gone out of American life.

It needs to be restored if we are to save this nation from lethargy and cynicism within, as well as from our enemies without. And it can be — if, on this and every Fourth, we give a quiet moment to reflecting on the values our forebearers bought for us with blood and treasure. We must determine to do all we can to defend those values and pass them on, untarnished, to our children and our children's children.

No Cause For Concern . . .

A reader of McCall's magazine wrote a letter to the editor asking this question: "Why do public utilities advertise? It seems pointless, since they enjoy monopolies. It bothers me to think that part of my utility dollar is being used to encourage me to spend even more."

The magazine carried an admirable answer by Beth Williams. She pointed out that advertising, generally, is used to stimulate the sale of more electric appliances and the use of more power — and that the more power a company sells, the lower the cost becomes. Increased use is a major reason why the per kilowatt cost of electricity declined from 17 cents in 1900 to 2 cents in a recent year.

Miss Williams concluded: "So, you see, the reason electric-power companies advertise is to sell more current. This investment in advertising does not raise the cost per kilowatt hour to you. It lowers it. That's why the use of part of your utility dollar for advertising is no cause for concern. In the end, you benefit."

In just about every line of industry, increased sales mean lower production costs. And that is as true of electric power as it is of groceries.

Saturday evening at 9 o'clock, Lucille Larson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Larson, and Mr. Lee Longstreet, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Longstreet, of Cadillac were united in marriage at the home of the bride's parents. They spoke their vows before Rev. H. W. Kuhlman. Miss Aileen Larson, sister of the bride, was her attendant. Ernest Larson, brother of the bride, acted as best man. Mrs. Longstreet was born in Grayling and attended Grayling schools, graduating with the class of '33. For the past two years, she has been employed in Adrian, where Mr. Longstreet is also employed, and where the young couple will make their home.

St. Mary's Rectory was the scene of a very pretty wedding Saturday morning at 11 o'clock when Jerine Peterson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Peterson, and Mr. William Hoffman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hoffman, were united in marriage by Rev. Fr. James Moloney. Miss Natalie Peterson was her sister's attendant. Alfred Hoffman, brother of the groom, was best man. Immediately after the ceremony the newlyweds left on a trip to southern Michigan. They will be at home to their friends in Alpena after July 20. Mr. and Mrs. Hoffman were both born and raised in Grayling, and have a host of friends who extend congratulations and best wishes for a long and happy wedded life.

Mrs. Eabern J. Olson and Mrs. Jesse Schoonover gave a tea of fine appointments at the home of the former on Saturday afternoon complimenting Miss Jean Peterson, who will become the bride of Don Gotro in the near future. Daisies and blue delphinium in a crystal bowl and guarded by white tapers in crystal holders centered the table at which Mrs. Fred R. Welsh presided. The fifty some guests spent the afternoon hemming tea towels and dusters for the bride, who later was showered with many lovely gifts.

Mrs. Joseph Collier and granddaughter Bernadine Adrian of Standish visited at the Henry Bouson home during the weekend. Mrs. William Tufts of Columbus, Ga., who is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Schoonover, will be joined by Lieutenant Tufts on July 9, and they will go to Wisconsin to visit his family. What has been known as Grayling Airport is now the "Charles J. McNamara Jr. Memorial Airport". This was so designated by the city council at the meeting last Monday night. This is a fine tribute to one of Grayling's respected young men. The airport will be officially dedicated July 29th.

The name of the Western State Teachers College at Kalamazoo has been changed to Western Michigan College of Education. This change is, we understand, made by legislative enactment. The publicity department of the college advocates that the words Western State College be used. Similar changes are being made by the other state colleges with exception of MSC.

Most of us enjoy the performance of a good magician or sleight-of-hand artist. We know we are being deceived and amuse ourselves trying to see just how the artist makes things appear, disappear, and seem to be what they are not.

In other things, none of us like to be "fooled" or to have things misrepresented to us. This is particularly true of the things we buy and of the services which we require for home or business.

That's why the wise folks around here believe in doing business with the reputable established local merchant. It pays to do business with people you know, folks who have earned the confidence of the local citizenry through dedication to service and satisfaction.

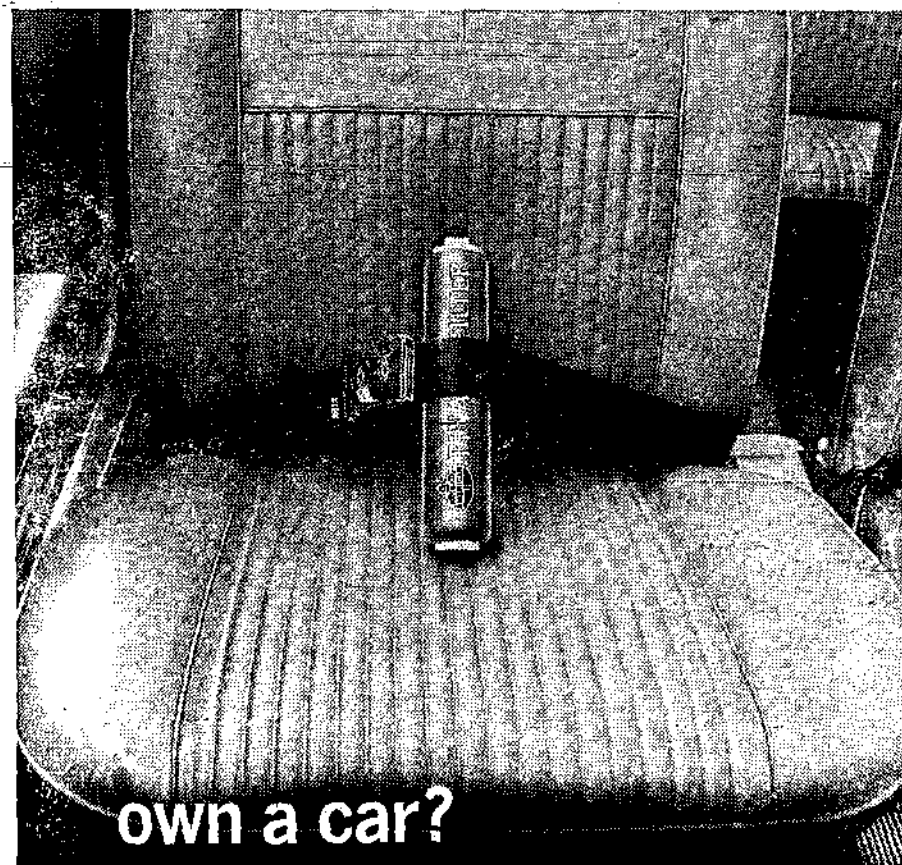

If, for one reason or another, you have gotten out of the habit of shopping local stores first, take our advice and visit these friendly people. You'll be glad you did.

Comparing seat belts with the American FINAL/FILTER* isn't as farfetched as you might think. They both give you the peace of mind you want when you drive. The American FINAL/FILTER is an improvement on any gasoline, but only Standard Oil Dealers have it. And everybody knows about seat belts. So next time — buy American. Brand Gasolines. Say "fill 'er up filtered."

In addition, the new refrigerator-freezers will:

- Store enough fresh and frozen foods to last for weeks.
- Save extra trips to the market.

What's In A State Park?

Time was when outdoor seekers looked to state parks in Michigan simply as good places to camp, swim, and picnic. Today, more people are coming to parks not just to enjoy these popular pastimes, but also to learn about the outdoors first hand. At some parks, such as Leding, Porcupine Mountains, Fort Wilkins, Wilderness, and Bay City, programs have been developed by the Conservation Department to help visitors feel at home in the outdoors. Under the Department's program of outdoor centers, children are learning about frogs, wildflowers, other resources and conservation projects. Admittedly, much more needs to be done through illustrated talks, guided tours, forestry and wildlife demonstrations, and other activities to help visitors understand what they're seeing. Latest move in the right direction was made earlier this year when a full-time naturalist was named to coordinate interpretive service programs of upper peninsula state parks. —Mich. Dept. of Conservation and Brig. Gen. Carson R. Neider National Guard, met with the Crawford County Road Commission to discuss the repair of damage done to County roads by the respective counties, caused by training of the various National Guard units. Letters To The Editor

Editor's Note — The following letter was received a short time ago by the Don Smock family of Grayling whose daughter, Cheryl, is spending the summer in Spain as an exchange student. The letter, written by the lady whose family Cheryl will spend the summer with, was in Spanish. It was translated by Cheryl.

Madrid, Spain
June 1, 1964

Dear Mrs. Smock:

We have received your kind letter and although my English is not very correct, I understand the pre-occupation that you feel before Cheryl's trip to Europe.

You can be sure that I will materially and spiritually take care of your daughter as though she were ours.

Our family is small and it will not be difficult for her to become a part of it. On the other hand, the experience of this vacation will be of great value to her. She will be your mediator for knowing us and arriving at the comprehension that is lacking in the world.

When she arrives she will be well-informed of her life here and you will see that you can put your trust in us.

I am happy for this confidence and for the occasion of knowing you better.

Dona Alicia N de Mora

Bits O' Talk

Guests at the Marvin Miller home for a few days last week were their cousins Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Weinbrenner of Grand Blanc and Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Wolf of Ortonville, who had been on a week's vacation in Canada. Mr. and Mrs. Miller were also recent vacationers in Canada and at Mackinac Island.

Representative Walter Nakkula of the State Legislature, from Gladwin, was a guest at the Woodward Smith cottage Wednesday and Thursday last week.

Mrs. Ed Hallman and son Dale of Saginaw spent from Thursday until Sunday here visiting her sister, the Sam Lippards, Dale to do some fishing.

Charles S. Bishop of Downey, Calif., arrived last Thursday in Oslo, Norway, to begin a tour of eight countries, returning in September. The trip is a graduation gift from his father, Douglas Bishop. Test New Pesticide

On Jack Pine Budworm

Mio District Ranger, J. K. Adams, Huron National Forest, has reported the testing of a new pesticide to control destructive insects. The test was carried out last week in the Mio district and involved 240 acres in Township 25 North, Ranges 1 east and 4 west, near Roscommon.

The jack pine budworm is the insect upon which the pesticide Malathion was experimentally used. The budworm's destructive work can be noticed in many places in the Mio district, particularly along State Route 23, south of Mio, and Route 72, west of Luverne. The jack pine on these two locations have been almost completely defoliated by the worm.

Since World War II, DDT has been used for the control of many serious insect infestations. The tests and research involved with Malathion are directed toward finding a suitable replacement for DDT without its alleged side effects.

Ranger Adams said that aerial application by helicopter gave good coverage of the 20-acre plots set up for the experiment. A temporary heliport was established along the Hunter Lake road and the application was completed early last Wednesday morning. Only mature jack pine timber received the pesticide.

The results of the experiment will be closely analyzed and evaluated. Each year the jack pine budworm and other forest insects destroy large quantities of timber on national, state, and private land. Their control is essential if the forests are to meet the demand of the public for wood products. Ranger Adams stated this research project was part of an overall attempt to find safe and efficient means of insect control.

RASMUSSEN - CHAPP WED JUNE 20th

Saturday, June 20, 1964, was the date of the wedding of Miss Greta Rasmussen of Grayling, daughter of Mrs. Harold Rasmussen and the late Mr. Rasmussen of Grayling, and Mr. John Chapp of Roscommon. The nuptial mass was performed by Father Joseph Sakowski at eleven o'clock at St. Mary's Church.

The bride approached the altar on the arm of her brother, Richard Rasmussen. She chose a gown of silk organza over taffeta, fashioned with wrist-point sleeves, a portrait neckline graced with Alencon lace and seed pearls on a fitted bodice. A tracery of Alencon lace complemented the floor-length sheath skirt, which was highlighted by a detachable chapel length train. Her queen's crown of tiny seed pearls held a tiered imported silk illusion bouffant veil. Her flowers were a cascade bouquet of pink and white roses.

The bride's attendants were identically gowned in shell pink silk linen dresses, with elbow length sleeves, bateau necklines, fitted bodices and modified floor-length sheath skirts accented at the back with floating panels. Matching bow bandeaus and bouffant veils completed their attire. Their flowers were colonial bouquets of pink and white carnations. Miss Jean Rasmussen, the bride's sister, was maid of honor. Mrs. Richard Rasmussen, the bride's sister-in-law, was bridesmaid.

Mr. James Bourrie served as best man to the bridegroom. Groomsman was Roger Rasmussen, the bride's brother, and seating the guests Mr. Thomas DeWitt and Mr. Jerry DeWitt, of Roscommon.

Mrs. Rasmussen chose a beige lace dress with matching accessories for her daughter's wedding.

They crossed the headwaters of the Mississippi River at Itasca State Park, on the stepping stones, drove through North Dakota and Montana to Red Lodge, where they were held up 24 hours until the pass 10,940 was cleared of snow. They thought the delay well worth the beauty of the snow-covered plateau 40 miles across which it enabled them to see. Two days were spent in Yellowstone National Park before going on to Denver, Colo., where they joined by Wayne Holzman and family of Little Rock, Ark., all as guests of the Darrell Ashton family for five days. They turned north to Cheyenne, Wyoming; visiting the state capitol and museum, then visited the Black Hills of South Dakota, the Crazy Horse Memorial and lunched under the famous Mt. Rushmore Memorial. From there they headed back across southern Minnesota to the Wisconsin Dells. The boat trip there is beautiful and filled with Indian lore, they reported, and was their last point of interest. They found people friendly throughout the trip. They ran into friends of the Dr. Greens, and saw bear, moose, elk, antelope, and mountain goats along the roads.
